

New Release

Panaxx Corporation and DSG Global Consultants Announce the Formation of Business Development Partnership for Japan and Allied Asia.

Konstanz, Germany, Washington, DC, Tokyo, Japan, 3 June 2022: Panaxx Corporation (Panaxx) and DSG Global Consultants (DSG Global) announce the formation of a strategic business development partnership in defense, space, geo-intelligence, and optical communication technologies. This partnership will focus on business-to-business and business-to-government opportunities for clients in Japan and allied nations in the Asia Pacific region.

Panaxx brings to the partnership a long-established trade organization with the expertise and affiliations to address the defense, space and geospatial technology needs and requirements of the customer. “DSG Global is excited to be working with Panaxx as we assist our collective clients in fielding their state-of-the-art defense, geointelligence and secure communication capabilities to our allies”, said Mr. David S. Germroth, Managing Director of DSG Global.

“We are proud and excited to be working with DSG Global in providing defense, space GEOINT and optical communication products and services to Japan and our allies in the Pacific”, commented Mr. Theodore M. Kato, CEO of Panaxx Corporation. “The technologies our partnership represents, a combination of new space and traditional technology from US and Europe, not only address current critical needs for Japan’s security, but these capabilities also create opportunities to meet, more effectively, the concerns of the United States and broader allied community in the Pacific Rim.”

###

About Panaxx Corporation (Panaxx): Panaxx was established and began trading operations in 1963. It is now one of the leading trading companies in Japan, utilizing a long-established global network and information resources. The company is engaging in domestic and international trading to include import / export services, information and secure communication technology, multiple geospatial phenomenology capabilities, defense and aerospace products, financing, realty, government relations and business investment in Japan and allied nation overseas.

About DSG Global Consultants (DSG Global): DSG Global is an international defense, space, and geointelligence consultancy established, specializing in global business-to-business, business-to-government, and government-to-government project development in and between the US, Europe, Japan, and Five Eyes nations. The company provides comprehensive services in international business development and government relations, specifically within the highly competitive international defense, space, secure communications, and geospatial-intelligence markets.

For more information contact:

Panaxx:

DSG Global: team@global-dsg.com